THE PROJECT

House rental by students is a little-researched phenomenon, yet crucial for reducing discrimination and vulnerability that young people often face, especially foreign and less well-off students.

STUDMIHOME directly involves Polytechnic students in research aimed at understanding housing supply and demand, also with public engagement and intervention objectives. The ultimate goal is to develop and test a new service at the Off Campus Nolo, helping students look for decent housing solutions, as well as providing information and legal advice, practical support and orientation to University services.
